3. General

Trust CHECK handles all complaints and/or appeals from its clients before, during, or after mission assignments, or at any time from other parties of any kind. The management of appeals and complaints is necessary in order to demonstrate the integrity and credibility of the Trust CHECK.

Trust CHECK is responsible for all decisions made in the complaint and appeal handling process. The analysis and decisions relating to appeals and complaints do not give rise to any discriminatory action.

This procedure is also available on our website or upon request.

This procedure is also used when new facts are discovered after the statement or certificate has been issued.

Any non-compliance identified during the process will be handled in accordance with procedure PR13.

6. Qualification of the independant reviewer

During the examination of an appeal or complaint, where the subject concerns an issued verification/validation statement or certificate already delivered, the Quality Manager shall appoint an independent reviewer with demonstrated competence and qualifications appropriate to the subject matter, considering the applicable conformity assessment activity, scheme, and technical or sector-specific field. The Quality Manager shall document the rationale for the selection of the appointed independent reviewer.

The Quality Manager shall ensure that the appointed reviewer is independent, has not been involved in the matter concerned, and has no conflict of interest.

7. Registration

All calls and complaints are recorded in the company's information management system via ticket management.
